Northwest Sinfonietta

Home and Abroad

Northwest Sinfonietta has been producing quality classical music for twenty-one years with residencies in Seattle, Tacoma, and Puyallup. The orchestra just concluded its first international tour to Cuba as only the third U.S. orchestra to visit since the 1959 Revolution. The ten day trip culminated with three historic performances where U.S. and Cuban musicians performed side-by-side. Fifty-three patrons accompanied the orchestra on the tour. For more information on their recent tour, Maestro Gerard Schwarz guest-conducting in June, and future collaborations with Cuba, please visit www.northwestsinfonietta.org or www.facebook.com/northwestsinfonietta.

Spring is just around the corner, but Puget Sound arts are already in full bloom!

From The 10th Northwest Biennial at Tacoma Art Museum, to One Man Lord of the Rings at Broadway Center for the Performing Arts, Pierce County has something for every arts enthusiast.

Meet Mari Horita

ARTSFUND'S NEW PRESIDENT & CEO

Mari's love of the arts began when she started studying the violin at age six. She credits her early exposure to music with shaping her view that the arts are fundamental to a healthy society.

Mari's involvement with ArtsFund traces back seventeen years, when she first joined the Associates Program as a young lawyer at Bogle & Gates. She later joined the Board of Trustees and served as co-chair of the Workplace Giving Committee, helping to increase donor giving levels and participation. ArtsFund Chair Jim Duncan said Mari's leadership in business and nonprofit sectors, demonstrated fundraising acumen, and passion for the arts made her the ideal candidate to succeed Jim Tune as ArtsFund President & CEO.

Mari earned her J.D. from the University of Washington School of Law, her M.A. in Nonprofit Leadership from Seattle University, and has served on ten non-profit boards over the past fifteen years. She currently plays in a string quartet called Vina Musica and calls being the President & CEO of ArtsFund her "dream job."

Good Karma 5k Run for ArtsFund!

ArtsFund is excited to be one of the ten beneficiaries of the Second Annual Good Karma 5K, taking place on May 27th, 2012 in Seward Park. Good Karma 5K is the Northwest's only choose-your-own-charity run. When participants sign up, they designate where their proceeds will benefit out of a list of ten local nonprofits. Last year was a huge success, with four hundred participants. This year they are hoping to at least double the participant numbers, and add some fun new activities too. Online registration and additional information about this year's event can be found at www.goodkarma5k.com.

Project Audience

ArtsFund Part of National Pilot Project

Part of ArtsFund's mission is connecting audiences to the arts they love and helping them discover new arts experiences. We have an opportunity with our website www.takepartinart.org to become the region's "one-stop shop" for information about arts events, including calendars, links to transit and other services, ticket discounts and interactive opportunities.

Producing a site like this is a technical and financial commitment that is difficult for a single nonprofit to undertake. Several years ago, ArtsFund became a founding member and serves as fiscal agent for Project Audience, a national coalition of arts service organizations that came together to create open-development software that can be personalized and used in many websites across the country.

Thanks to generous funding from The Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, a pilot project is underway this spring in Los Angeles using the website ExperienceLA, to build and test the software and assess its adoption potential for other regions.

Elisabeth Yandell McNeil

Associates Spotlight

Elisabeth Yandell McNeil is an associate at K&L Gates, LLP, and an avid consumer of the arts in Seattle. From the first time she picked up a violin at age three, she knew the arts would play an essential role in her life. Elisabeth moved to Seattle in no small part because of its vibrant and diverse arts community, and immediately got involved with ArtsFund. As a member of BRAVO! at the Seattle Opera, WolfGang at the Seattle Symphony, and the Seattle Art Museum, she catches as many performances and exhibits as possible. Elisabeth looks forward to becoming even more involved in the Seattle arts community, and is thrilled to be an ArtsFund Associate.

ArtsFund Trains Arts Leaders of Tomorrow

Thank You to The Boeing Company

Actors, painters, dancers and musicians may be the face of the arts, but they are far from the only people who make it happen. Artistry in the form of excellent management by a board of directors is vital to keeping arts organizations healthy.

Now in its twelfth year, ArtsFund's Board Leadership Training program held a six-session course this spring to a capacity class of thirty. The program is offered to veteran ArtsFund Associates as well as current members of arts boards.

Amy Swailes,
ArtsFund Associate,
Aon Risk Insurance
Services West, Inc.

"As part of ArtsFund's Board Leadership Training program I had the opportunity to serve as an intern with the amazing 5th Avenue Theatre. Having the privilege to work with my favorite artistic association in Seattle has been a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity which would not have been possible without my training in the program, and the individuals who endeavor to continue to make it a success." — AMY SWAILES

Students of a Board Leadership Training class collaborate to address fiscal situations and improve their leadership skills.

A Celebration of the Arts Luncheon • Monday, May 7, 2012—Westin Seattle Hotel

At its 23rd Annual Celebration of the Arts luncheon, ArtsFund will present its Lifetime Dedication to the Arts award to Arlene A. Wright, and its Outstanding Achievement in the Arts award to Kurt Beattie, Artistic Director, ACT Theatre.

Accomplished playwright and actor Anna Deavere Smith will be the keynote speaker.

ANNA DEAVERE SMITH is probably most recognizable in popular culture as Gloria Akalitus on Showtime's hit series Nurse Jackie, or as Nancy McNally, national security advisor on NBC's former hit The West Wing. Yet, her work in the theater has been a central part of her artistic life. It has been said that she created a new form of theater.

When granted the prestigious MacArthur Award, her work was described as "a blend of theatrical art, social commentary, journalism, and intimate reverie." Ms. Smith's theater combines the journalistic technique of interviewing her subjects with the art of interpreting their words through performance.

These one-woman shows are a part of a series she began in the early 1980s called On the Road: A Search for American Character. A reviewer for The New York Times, writing about her Broadway show Twilight: Los Angeles, which depicted the 1992 Los Angeles riots, said of her performance that she's "the ultimate impressionist: she does people's souls." Jack Kroll of Newsweek proclaimed the work "an American masterpiece."
