

Building For the Arts

2017-2019

A Program With a History of Success

Since its inception in 1991, the Building for the Arts program has raised nearly $90 million in state capital construction funds for over 200 arts projects in 27 counties across Washington State. Thanks to administration by the Department of Commerce and a citizens advisory board, only projects that have demonstrated sound planning, fiscal solvency, and an ability to raise substantial funds locally are recommended for funding. Reimbursement funds may not exceed 20% of total project costs, nor may they exceed $2,000,000 total per organization.

This year's Building for the Arts program proposes 16 capital projects requesting a total of $12,000,000. Participating organizations represent areas all over the state including Bellevue, Bellingham, Bremerton, Chewelah, Olympia, Port Townsend, Seattle, Tacoma, and Walla Walla.

Building Significant Economic Impact

The 2017-2019 Building for the Arts program's request of $12,000,000 in the capital budget is only 7% of the $168.7 million total cost of capital projects proposed, and is a modest investment in the returns it will bring to the state.

In addition to the quality of life contributions these projects will help arts organizations bring to their communities, they will also have an impact on the state's economy through tax revenue and job creation. Furthermore, when the construction is complete, arts organizations and their patrons spur business and jobs in restaurants, retail stores, hotels, transportation, and many other service industries.
